Buckingham

A trip to Richmond by private conveyance took me through Cumberland, Powhatan, and Chesterfield and I saw no better farm lands than are in Buckingham, in fact the farms around the Nuckols post-office in this county were the best I saw on the route to Richmond. While in the city I called on Governor Davis and also upon Attorney General Saunders. I heard more men boosting Mr. Trinkle than I heard talking Mr. Tucker up. Men are saying that there will be about 19 millions of money spent in Virginia on the roads during the time for which the next governor will be elected to serve and that a younger man than Mr. Tucker should be in office.

[The editor of this paper has known Mr. Tucker for thirty years or more, and know him now, he is active, aggressive and progressive, and his opponents may now as later look for a larger hammer to strike and stem the Tucker tide. His age and statesmanship will reflect credit and good sense on the people who insist that he be made Govorner at this time]

Great numbers of rail road employees are being laid off and men are constantly coming home here who have lost their jobs.

The Richmond Cedar Works one of the largest plants of the kind has shut down.

Mr. Tucker says "Back to the Constitution" and now the slogan will be back to the farms, and then for another era of prosperity.

I bought a suit of clothes from the United States Woolen Mills Company who claim to manufacture the cloth from which the suits are made and the salesman told me the wool in the suit did not weigh more than three pounds and did not cost more than one dollar and that the other went to pay cost of manufacturing.

I saw some tobacco at Dillwyn that was sold by Mr. Chas. H. Anderson last week at a price of $80 per hundred and a two-horse load fetched him over $500. I saw on one warehouse floor about 75,000 pounds of tobacco at one time and they had to advise their customers not to bring any more in as there was not room for it and then the prices materially declined. I was told that the congestion at Richmond was so great that 50 hogsheads of tobacco were on the siding in Richmond at one time that were filled with tobacco which had been shipped from Dillwyn.

I am going to publish a list of names I have heard mentioned in connection with the appointment of a division superintendent of schools for Buckingham and they are as follows: Miss Clarice Bursch, Miss M. Loulie Patteson, Dr. Winston and Mersrs. Earnest Cole, H. C. Griffin, D. N. Davidson, H. Blankenship Charton, and the incumbent John A. Twyman. The State Board of Education having in charge the election of Division Superintendents for the counties, cities and state; will be in session in Richmond this week and then we shall see what we shall see.

Ever and anon the foul mouth of slander speaks in our midst ever and anon people try to rectify some wrong, sometimes they succeed by clean methods of correction at other times the reverse is the case.

Good farm laborers are now working for $1 a day. Men are preparing small plant beds in a half-hearted way, not much plowing has been done when we take into consideration the beautiful weather we have had.

A prominent man in this county has sold the timber on his farm for $6,000 cash. The price of timber has declined along with other things

I sold small hams at 40c a pound, a lady friend of mine asked me to buy her a few old hams that are sound and small. If you don't know my name address The Correspondent of the Times-Virginian Appomattox, Va.

University Endowment

Allow me to express my very deep interest in the efforts to collect the Centennial Endowment Fund of the University of Virginia. I should suppose that there will be a very general igterest in this effort, for the service of the University of Virginia, not only to the State but to the Nation, is so well known. There are very few institutions of which it can be said, as it can be said of the University of Virginia, that two thirds of its graduates enter some form of public service, and there are very few so admirably adapted to mediate between North and South by reason of their position and tradition. The University of Virginia is particularly adapted to play such a part and is in a very real sense a national institution.

"Hoping that the efforts to secure this fund will be abundantly successful, I am,
Cordially and sincerely yours,
Woodrow Wilson."

War History

Miss Eula May Burke who is a collaborator of the War History Commission will appreciate very much the assistance of every man and woman in the county. She would like to have sent to her all letters of interest or diaries written by soldiers or civilians during the World War, whether the writer was abroad or in the U. S. In cases where the owners of papers wish to keep them Miss Burke will have copies made and return the original to the owner, otherwise the original will be kept here in the Clerk's office in a vault for safety.

In any case only a copy goes to Richmond for the history.

She also requests people in the county who have any records, letters, diaries & c. which were written during the Civil War to bring or send them to her, stating whether or not the owner wishes the original returned.

Terry C. Durham to Miss Mary Harmsworth

The marriage of Terry Colley Durham, of Virginia, to Mary, daughter of Sir Leicester and Lady Harmsworth of Moray Lodge, Campden Hill, London, took place in London on March first.

Mr. Durham, a Lieutenant of American Field Artillery in France during the War is the eldest son of the late William Archer and Ella Fuqua Durham of Appomattox, Va., and is a graduate of the University of Richmond, B. A. 1910, M. A. 1911, and of Christ Church, Oxford from which he holds the degrees of B. A. and M. A having attended Oxford for three years as Rhodes Scholar from the State of Virginia Before going to Oxford he held the chair of mathematics at Greenville, S. C., Woman's College for two years, and later resided a year in Richmond, Va., as a member of the faculty of John Marshall High School. Returning to the States after the war he became a partner of the Real Estate Firm of Fuqua & Durham of Norfolk, Va. He is now engaged in advertising business, which will divide his time between England and America. Mrs. Durham, the groom's mother, resides at Appomattox, Va., with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Higginbotham. The groom's only brother is Walter E. Durham, who is engaged in the Real Estate business in Richmond, Va.

Miss Harmsworth's father is a member of English Parliament and is owner of several newspapers. Her mother was Ann Scott, daughter of the late Thomas Scott, of Clapham and Cornard, Suffolk, England. She has four uncles all of whom are interested in the publishing business and with her father are the owners of seventy-seven news papers, said to be a record in British journalism. Her uncles are Alfred, Viscount Northcliffe, the oldest and most famous of the brothers Harold, Viscount Rothermere; Cecil Harmsworth, the British Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs and Hildebrand Harmsworth, the youngest of the brothers.

On the morning after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Durham left London for a honeymoon tour of several weeks, visiting Paris, Nice, Geneva, Florence, Rome, Lucerne, Interlaken, Berne and other places in France Italy and Switzerland. They will make their home in London where business will hold Mr. Durham for the next few months and come to America in early summer. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, the wedding was a quiet one. The wedding took place at St. Mary Abbots, Kinsington at 2 o'clock p. m.

Evergreen

Well the ground-hog has certainly proved himself a fake for we are having such nice weather now.

We had three fine sermons here Sunday. Rev. Z. V. Johnson preached at the Methodist church morning and night and Rev. Mr. Robertson, of N. C., preached at the presbyterian church in the afternoon.

Misses Earle and Ida Mae Farrar have returned from a pleasant trip to Lynchburg.

There will be a play given at Evergreen school house entitled The Troubles of a Photographer, on March 12th, beginning at 8 o'clock: Admission 25 and 15 cents. If you are feeling blue just come to the play and laugh the blues away.

Mr. and Mrs. Mott Harvey and little daughter, Fay Etts, visited their uncle, Mr. Henry Clark, in Lynchburg, last week who is very ill.

Mrs. J. J. Farrar was the week-end guest of Mrs. S. T. Paulett.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. R. W Paulett is ill at her home in Lynchburg.

Red Cross to Be Reorganized.

There will be a meeting of the Appomattox Co. Red Cross at C. H. at 3:30 p. m., Tuesday march 15th. You are urgently requested to attend and assist in reorganizing the chapter for the year's work. Preachers will please give this notice from their pulpits. Everybody in county urged to come as the county is to be reorganized upon a plan different from the war time plan and we are to be prepared to look after the needs of Appomattox county people as well as people in foreign countries. We want to start a movement for the installation of a county or school nurse, establishing community and health centers and in fact a full peace-time program. A Representative from Washington will be present to give information about the peace time activities. Election of officers will be held. The present officers are Miss Eula May Burke, Dr. C. F. James, C. K. Hunter, A. H. Clement. Miss E. V. Hardy has already effected an organization of the Junior Red Cross in the county.

Lumber is Down

Yes, Lumber Is Down—Down to where a farmer can afford to build anything that can be made of lumber even in the face of a low market on farm products.

Lumber Was The Last Great Commodity To Go Up and the first to come down. Today lumber prices are down to where it is hard to see how they can go any lower when costs are considered.

You Farmers Have Reason To Be Disappointed In the returns from last year's crops, but with lumber selling on the present basis we don't believe you can afford not to do whatever building or repairing may be necessary before Spring work commences.

Whether It's a Barn, or a Shed, or Just Some boards for fixing up around the place, the facts about lumber will appeal to any man or woman who believes in thrift and knows values.

Come In and Talk Over Your Particular Problems. We want to be helpful, and we welcome an opportunity to show you.
